His Worship George V. Harvie Mayor of the City of Delta Chair of the Delta Police Board 4500 Clarence Taylor Crescent Delta BC V4K 3E1 c/o Email: jram@deltapolice.ca

Dear Mayor Harvie:

Thank you for your letter dated August 30, 2022, regarding the implementation timeline of the new funding model for municipal police recruit training at the Justice Institute of British Columbia Police Academy (JIBC PA). I acknowledge that the change to the anticipated start date, and the timing for communicating that change, creates financial pressure that will be challenging to manage.

The new funding model, which adds a municipal funding source to the provincial grant and tuition fees paid by recruits, is essential to ensuring sustainability of the delivery model and addressing the structural deficit at the JIBC PA, as confirmed by the external financial analysis shared with municipalities in July 2021. It is also consistent with the statutory responsibilities of municipalities with populations over 5,000 to provide policing, which includes ensuring officers receive training. While the Province provides an annual grant of $1.995 million to the JIBC PA, we are not able to commit additional funding over and above this amount.

I understand that Policing and Security Branch (PSB) has encouraged the JIBC to finalize the cost-per-recruit amount, conduct further analysis as needed to consider cost mitigation strategies, and identify the timeline for implementation of the new funding model, including when municipalities will be charged for training. The JIBC has now completed this work and communicated the costs and timelines to the Chief Constables of the Municipal Police Departments and Chairs of the Police Boards in June 2022. Further discussions surrounding the timing of the implementation of the new funding model, including concerns regarding any increased recruit training demands, as well as the cost per recruit amount, should be initiated with the JIBC, as these decisions have been approved by their Board of Governors.

Office of the Minister and Deputy Premier

OP E.3a

As municipal contributions are integrated into the funding model, I encourage the BC Association of Police Boards (BCAPB) and BC Association of Municipal Chiefs of Police (BCAMCP) to lead discussions with the JIBC to ensure that the Police Academy is able to respond to recruiting demands and training needs.

Lastly, the Director of Police Services and ministry staff continue to be actively engaged with the City of Surrey's police model transition. Transition implementation has been and will continue to be gradual, measured, and at a pace that balances the sustained momentum with the need to mitigate the potential impacts. This includes working with the Surrey Police Board, Surrey Police Service, and police leadership forums such as the BCAMCP and BCAPB regarding recruit training demand impacts.

Thank you again for writing and raising your concerns.

Sincerely,

Mik Ja

Mike Farnworth Minister of Public Safety and Solicitor General and Deputy Premier

The Delta Police Foundation (DPF) works with the Delta Police Department (DPD) to promote and support relationships between the DPD and the community through community policing programs and initiatives. The DPF's strategic direction is to support initiatives to make connections and strengthen relationships between DPD officers and the community, focusing on youth. This direction is realized through various interactive events such as the 3-on-3 Basketball Tournament, Youth Leadership Conference, and the Student Police Academy. The DPF also held the inaugural Summer Solstice Run, Walk and Roll on June 22, 2022, with over 200 community members participating. The DPF is currently looking at how they can support the Delta Police Pipe Band in their work in the community.

On November 8, 2022, the DPF welcomed Whitney Saip Dyck to supplement their ongoing work with committed volunteers willing to contribute to our community and the DPD brand. Whitney's bio can be found below.

Whitney is a lifelong resident of Delta, and together with her husband, is raising her young family in the Tsawwassen area. As a Recruitment Specialist, Whitney enjoys the variety of working with private and non-profit clients and candidates across diverse industry sectors where she handles outreach, screening, candidate development, events, social media and special projects.

An active board member of the Tsawwassen Business Improvement Association, Chair of the South Delta Community Impact Committee, member of the CKNW Kid's Fund Golf Committee, a Patient Family spokesperson for BC Children's Hospital, and a manager of her son's Delta Islanders Lacrosse and South Delta Storm Hockey teams, Whitney is an avid volunteer and working mom. As a side interest, Whitney has had the privilege of singing anthems for the Vancouver Giants, BC Lions, Canucks, Whitecaps, Canadians, and the Seattle Seahawks over the past 20 years.

Compliments for the DPD Team

Hello Police Chief Dubord,

This is

I hope you are well.

I just wanted to congratulate you and your team on some work which I heard about via my dad.

My dad, was listening to the radio yesterday (Radio 600AM) and there was a caller who was singing the praises of the Delta PD on their work when it came to a girl and a situation at that unfolded at Tsawwassen Mills mall.

A girl was taken by force and a concerned citizen called the non emergency line.

The citizen stated that within 4 mins there was an officer speaking to him in the parking lot and within 2 km an officer Compliments from the Public saw the girl and suspect and diffused the situation.

The callers on the radio along with the citizen were so proud of your teams hard work and due diligence and so am I.

I just wanted to say thank you to your whole team and especially the officers involved.

Keep up the solid work.

Have a wonderful day.

BC Fugitive Return Program
ACTION	MEETING

	🗆 Committee

In 2008, the Vancouver Police Department (VPD) launched the Con Air program. Con Air focused on returning individuals with out-of-province warrants (OPW) found in Vancouver by the VPD. Between 2008 to 2011, the VPD Con Air program transported 98 fugitives out of BC to face charges in the original province. The Victoria Police Department (Vic PD) also had a similar program. The program provided individuals facing charges in other provinces with a one-way plane ride back to the jurisdiction where they allegedly committed a crime, to face the charges.

Due to the wide success of this program, it evolved into a provincial initiative, which the BC RCMP is currently managing. In September 2011, the Province's Policing and Security Branch (PSB), with the support of BC municipal police departments and the RCMP, established a BC Fugitive Return Program (BCFRP) to assist in returning individuals with outstanding warrants, meeting specific criteria, from other provinces to the respective provinces.

Police Chiefs from throughout the province signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) to formally clear the way for all policing agencies to participate in the BCFRP. Under the BCFRP, a single provincial point of contact (a senior RCMP member) liaises with the police, Crown Counsel and the BC Sheriff Services, who transport the fugitives.

The BCFRP provides all municipal police departments and RCMP detachments in BC with the ability to participate in a provincially funded fugitive return program.

The BCFRP is managed by a Program Coordinator, a senior ranking officer employed, administered and housed within the "E" Division Criminal Investigation Unit of the RCMP. The Program Coordinator is responsible for liaising with the Crown Prosecutors, RCMP and/or municipal police departments in the jurisdictions that hold the warrants to attempt to negotiate an extension of the warrant to BC so that the individual can be returned to be prosecuted in the original province.

The BCFRP Coordinator also works with Liaisons from BC municipal police departments and RCMP detachments in executing the return of individuals to the respective provinces.

The Delta Police Department (DPD) has a BCFRP Liaison. Should a DPD officer come across an individual with an OPW meeting the specified criteria for the BCFRP, the member will notify the DPD BCFRP Liaison, who will submit a referral to and work with BCFRP Program Coordinator in executing the return. The BCFRP receives funding from the Civil Forfeiture Office (CFO) to support the program. There are no costs for participating police departments to return an individual with OPWs to the original province.

SUBJECT Overview of DPD's Participation in	Integrated Policing Units	~
ACTION	MEETING
For information	🖾 Open
For action	Private
	🗆 Committee

The Delta Police Department (DPD) participates in various integration policing units (IPUs). IPUs are federal, provincial or regional units and serve more than one jurisdiction. Federal integrated units are funded primarily by the federal government, and provincial units by the provincial government. In contrast, jurisdictions generally share the cost of regional units based on a pre-determined formula. Members from various police organizations (including RCMP, municipal and/or provincial and federal forces) compose the IPUs.

The DPD provides various opportunities for its members to participate in IPUs in the Lower Mainland, which have the added benefits of information sharing, coordination and strategic development against threats to public safety and the professional development of members. As an added value, the DPD has full access to services provided by the units.

There are currently 15 DPD members assigned to the integrated units noted below. Deployment to IPUs is reviewed and adjusted as necessary to ensure that there aren't any service impacts to the community of Delta.

Combined Forces Special Enforcement Unit (CFSEU)-BC

The CFSEU-BC's mandate is to target, investigate, prosecute, disrupt, and dismantle the organized crime groups and individuals that pose the highest risk to public safety due to their involvement in gang violence.

CFSEU-BC is the largest integrated police program in Canada, made up of members from every police department in BC, including the RCMP, and is the third largest police 'force' in the province with over 400 officers.

Currently, four (4) DPD members are seconded to CFSEU-BC. All related costs for members (wages, benefits and overtime) are recoverable by the DPD.

Integrated Municipal Provincial Auto Crime Team (IMPACT)

The mandate of IMPACT is to develop innovative strategies to reduce auto crime in BC. IMPACT is currently operating four major initiatives: the Bait Car program, Automated Licence Plate Recognition (ALPR), the stolen vehicle Enforcement Team and public awareness. IMPACT operates and manages the Bait Car Program for the Greater Vancouver area, Vancouver Island, the BC Interior, and the North. IMPACT's Bait Car program includes the largest Bait Car fleet in North America.

Currently, two (2) DPD members are seconded to IMPACT. All related costs for members (wages, benefits and overtime) are recoverable by the DPD.

Integrated Road Safety Unit (IRSU)

IRSU's mandate is to reduce harm on BC roadways. This is accomplished by conducting strategic traffic enforcement in high-collision areas to reduce serious injuries and fatal collisions on our roads. IRSU focuses on the high-risk driving behaviours (seatbelt compliance, speed, impaired, aggressive and distracted driving) which contribute to serious injury and fatal collisions on our roadways. IRSU also focuses on criminal interdiction and commercial vehicle enforcement.

Currently, one (1) DPD member is seconded to IRSU. All related costs for members (wages, benefits and overtime) are recoverable by the DPD.

Justice Institute of BC (JIBC) Police Academy

The JIBC Police Academy provides training for all municipal police recruits in BC, in addition to advance/ongoing training.

One (1) DPD member is seconded to JIBC Police Academy. All related costs for members (wages, benefits and overtime) are recoverable by the DPD.

Lower Mainland District Emergency Response Team (LMD ERT)

The LMD ERT assists frontline policing by responding to potentially violent and dynamic incidents with extreme danger. The team, composed of highly trained officers and technicians with specialized response capabilities and equipment, is available for incidents where the risk is such that a safe resolution is beyond a local agency's expertise and capacity. LMD ERT is the largest team of its kind in Canada.

Currently, three (3) DPD members are seconded to LMD ERT. All related costs for members (wages, benefits and overtime) are recoverable by the DPD.

Lower Mainland District Integrated Police Dog Service (LMD IPDS)

LMD IPDS is composed of police officers who handle canines trained for tracking and searching for evidence, suspects, drugs and explosives. IPDS provides expert assistance to frontline policing with various types of operational policing files, including:

- capturing suspects fleeing from stolen vehicles
- tracking and finding missing persons, including seniors with dementia or young children who wander off
- assisting crash investigators in locating evidence related to a collision (wallets, cell phones etc.)
- providing expert advice on how to apprehend suspects trying to evade police capture

IPDS is the largest Police Dog Service section in Canada and one of the largest in North America.

Integrated National Security Enforcement Team (INSET)

INSET tracks, deters, disrupts and prevents criminal activities of terrorist groups or individuals who pose a threat to Canada's national security (e.g. domestic security threats, national security terrorist-related threats).

Currently, one (1) DPD member is seconded to INSET. All related costs for members (wages, benefits and overtime) are recoverable by the DPD.

Real-Time Intelligence Centre (RTIC)

RTIC provides real-time information and intelligence to frontline police officers to assist with investigations involving serious crimes such as murder or gang-related shootings.

RTIC is currently going through a review process, the outcome of which is not known at this time. Typically one (1) DPD officer had been seconded to RTIC. At present, the DPD does not have any officers seconded to RTIC pending the outcome of the review. All related costs for members (wages, benefits and overtime) were recoverable by the DPD.

Police body worn cameras (BWCs) are an important tool with multi-faceted benefits for the community and police departments. The use of BWCs have a multitude of benefits, but are not limited to:

□ Committee

- improved and increased public trust and confidence;
- increased police accountability and transparency;
- reduced use of force incidences by and against the police (officer safety);
- improved evidence documentation;
- enhanced resolution of complaints about alleged police misconduct; and
- providing enhanced training resources, when used for training.

Many of the above noted benefits also contribute to officer wellness, which is essential in in ensuring a healthy and resilient workforce to serve the community given the complexities of police work.

Recognizing the value of these benefits, the Delta Police Department (DPD), with the support of the Delta Police Board, over the past two years has utilized a phased approach in implementing a BWC program. Current DPD policy, in alignment BC Provincial Policing Standards, permits the deployment of BWCs for civil disobedience events, training purposes, Interdiction Team policing activities and the Traffic Section. The DPD currently has 16 BWCs available for use by officers; the program to date has cost approximately $9,000. The DPD is examining if there are further uses for body worn cameras in the department, specifically for the frontline officers.

This examination focuses on a community consultation process, underway since September. Diverse forms of media (social/online, print and broadcast, including Punjabi newspapers) and presentations at local community-based meetings (e.g. Rotary) have been used to encourage public feedback from the community. This community consultation will also include the Tsawwassen First Nation. Community feedback is essential in determining whether the community expects further police transparency, legitimacy and accountability from the DPD through the use of BWCs.

Community members are encouraged to provide feedback about the expansion of the BWC to the DPD frontline by writing to bwc@deltapolice.ca. Further updates will be coming to the Police Board in the near future.

Moms Stop the Harm - Banner Displa	ays at DPD
ACTION	MEETING

	Committee

Moms Stop the Harm (MSTH) is a network of Canadian mothers and families who have lost their loved ones to substance misuse. Their goal is to bring awareness and advocate to end substance use-related stigma, harm, and deaths through calls for evidence-based prevention, treatment, and policy changes.

Ladner resident, Kathy Woudzia, is a member of MSTH. Kathy lost her daughter, Jessica, in 2018, at the age of 34 due to a fentanyl/alcohol overdose. As a teenager, Jessica was a straight-A student who loved science class, rollerblading, and the Backstreet Boys. A sexual assault at age 13 triggered mental health challenges and then a struggle with addiction which took her life in 2018. Jessica was also a mother and left behind a two-year-old daughter. She was a science teacher at Sands Secondary School.

Kathy was originally ashamed to tell family and friends that Jessica died from an overdose due to the stigma. However, she has since joined MSTH and is part of MSTH's "The Sudden Silence: Hidden Voices" project, a portable banner display, which tells the story of 16 individuals, whose lives were lost to substance misuse, through the voices of their loved ones. The project intends to highlight the tragedy of the overdose crisis, reduce the impact of stigma on addiction/drug use and bring awareness to the issue. The banner display includes QR codes that link the viewers to a story about the loved ones lost.

The banners will be displayed in the lobby of Delta Police Department's (DPD) Public Safety Building in North Delta from November 28 to December 4 and at DPD Headquarters in Ladner from December 5 to 12.

The DPD is committed to working with our community and stakeholders on what has been declared a public health crisis/emergency in BC with thousands of overdose deaths. The display of these banners in DPD buildings is a small step in realizing that commitment to our community.

On November 10, 2022, I along with Board members Lara Victoria, Sharan Oberoi and Firth Bateman attended the Governing in Public Interest Conference hosted by the Crown Agencies and Board Resourcing Office (CABRO) at the Vancouver Convention Centre.

Below is a summary of key takeaways from the conference.

- What is Governance?
 - ensuring that Board members meet the expectations of the government as in, what is mandated to Board Members
 - o remembering that Boards are in service of the public
 - o supporting the Chief in delivering what is mandated to Boards
- There was an emphasis on paying attention to the Mandate letter because that is what the government that appoints Boards to do. It was recommended that the Board's Mandate Letter is included in every Agenda package to remind Board Members of their expectations and stay focused on that.
- Board members should stay focused on the Department's strategic plan, service plan, annual reports and should work with the Chief to get things done
- Equity, diversity, and Inclusion (EDI) is an important piece and should be reflected in Board composition, including "economic inclusion" and Indigenous inclusion
- Work around reconciliation and decolonization is essential. It's important to look at successful examples of partnerships with First Nation communities and replicate the success of those examples in organizations.
- Boards should focus on building trust with the Chief and the best way to do so is through transparency
- It is important for Board members to make dedicated efforts to "get to know" each other
- For conflict resolution and successful Board meetings, consensus building is extremely important on the Board topics. Equally important is healthy conflict. Board members must have shared responsibility for a common goal which in the Delta Police Board's case is public safety
- When addressing absence of a common understanding amongst Board members, the matters need to be addressed respectfully and carefully

Law of Policing Pre-Conference Workshop on Governance: Key Takeaways

ACTION	MEETING
☑ For information	🖾 Open
□ For action	Private
	Committee

On November 8, 2022, I attended the Law of Policing Pre-Conference Workshop on Police Board Governance with Board member Firth Bateman and Delta Police Board Liaison Jassie Ram.

Below is a summary of key takeaways from the workshop. The learning objective for Police Boards members was the general understanding of governance. Police Board governance is made complex by the fact that across Canada each province, territory and municipality and their Police Boards do not share the same structure, process, or standardized approach toward Police governance. However, there are common principles, values, understandings, and assumptions that are Pan Canadian. These are:

- A Police Board's fundamental governance role is to provide civilian oversight to ensure police function in alignment with the expectations of the community. Across Canada there exists significant uncertainty about where the line exists between operations and governance oversight.
- Social media combined with the focus on modernization of policing holds great potential in sharing information on policing with the community. To date Boards do not post on their own accord or hold independent accounts. Police boards should be wary of entering into social media centered public discourse.
- Board members are expected to be involved in continual engagement outside of the monthly Board meetings. Board members' public conduct reflects on the police organization they represent.
- Collaboration, effective communication and respectful dispute resolution between the Police Service Management and Police Boards are key to ensuring proper governance.
- Boards benefit from diverse membership that is representative of the communities they serve.
 Board appointments are largely a provincial jurisdiction in BC; a fair share of the recruitment role is made available to municipalities in other provinces/territories.
- As the employer of the Chief Constable, Boards have an essential role in creating a professionally supportive environment for the Chief Constable and to support the health and well-being of the Chief. Relationship and communication enhancement should be an objective the Board and Chief both identify as mutually important and work toward.

- In collaboration with the Chief, Boards also have a responsibility for the health and well-being of the entire Police Service.
- Governance also includes instilling public trust and confidence for policing and Boards have a role in building and supporting the reputation of the Police Services. When there are community concerns about the Police Service expressed to Board members, those should be brought forward to police boards to be addressed with Management teams.
- Boards should explore public participation opportunities to enhance awareness of their existence and roles in their communities. Police Boards need to enhance their visibility in the community.
- It is best practice to align Police Board strategic objectives with the Police Department's Strategic Plan– as both entities serve the community. This promotes collaboration and sets a common direction as the Police Department's Strategic Plan was developed with Board consultation and was approved by the Board.
- When considering police operations, a conceptual approach for the Board is "noses in, fingers out." Board members are expected to ask revealing and even challenging questions, recognizing that ultimately operational decisions belong to police management.

Conclusion

Participation in the workshop was a valuable opportunity. It provided a useful learning opportunity on governance and fostered important dialogue with members of other Police Boards.
